Would you say the quaver part is very colourful (because it uses the chromatic scale), or do you think it's grey or black & white (because of the colour of the keys)?

Find out why the scale which uses all of the notes (both black & white) is called 'chromatic.' In the chromatic scale the black notes (keys) are usually played by the 3rd finger.

Notice in almost every bar of the L.H. melody (bars 1 - 8) there is a step down. In many bars of the R.H. melody (bars 9 - 16) there is a semitone.

Be sure to play the accompaniment very soft (pp). These insects don't make a lot of noise!

What type of insects are busy here? What do you think they are doing?
